

LIVING TO COST MORE TO-MORROW

Price of Milk Is Raised One Cent a Quart, Owing to Changed Conditions.

DIFFICULT TO SECURE LABOR

Cows Cost More, and Combination of Evils Forces Rise in Cost of Milk.

The milk market reports a rise in values, and to-morrow consumers will have to pay one cent more per quart than they will today. Today they may secure all they want at seven cents per quart, or perhaps, it would be wise to lay in as large a supply as possible before the new price goes into effect.

The price of milk was not advanced yesterday, as it was stated last night by Mr. Thomas L. Blanton, president of the Richmond Dairy Company, but has been brought about by an advance in the price of cows and security of labor, coupled with the usual greater trouble in securing cows in the winter. Mr. Blanton stated that he had recently made a tour of the Valley of Virginia, where he had found many dairymen going out of the business to devote their lives to farming or stock-raising, on account of the difficulty of securing sufficient labor to maintain their establishments in the business.

Daily farming involves work that would discourage and drive away, as there is a constant attendance to duty, laborers prefer to get paid when they are not required to work. When they are not required to work, they will not work, and when they are required to work, they will not work. This is the condition of the labor market in the Valley of Virginia, and it is the cause of the high price of milk.

Source of Supply Cut Off.

Heretofore, the source of supply of milk from the North when the local supply was low, was the Potomac River. Recently, however, several firms in the North have informed that they are unable to supply milk to the South, and this has cut off the source of supply of milk from the North.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, chronic kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Lydia E. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for women's ailments—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to cure that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-down pains, swelling or burning sensations of the deposits in the urine, unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back, running through the groin, she may infer that her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ailments.

The following letters show how successfully it has cured:

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

I have been a great sufferer with kidney trouble. My back ached all the time and I was discouraged. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure kidney disease, and I began to take it, and it has cured me when everything else had failed. I have recommended it to lots of people and they all praise it very highly.

Mrs. J. W. Lang, of 626 Third Avenue, New York, writes:

At the Virginia Mechanics' Institute Friday night a meeting of the directors, faculty and officers was held, which was characterized by the greatest enthusiasm in contemplation of the new year and already done by the school and the prospect for the future.

Mr. Mann S. Quisenberry, chairman of the School Committee, presided, and after a few remarks of congratulation upon the large attendance and the manifest interest in the furtherance of the work of the new session, called upon President Whitehead, who made a short and stimulating talk upon the position which the institute occupies in the city and the world. He held it up upon the basis of its students, Captain Ned Archer, one of the charter members of the school, as well as a veteran of the War between the States, followed by a few well-chosen remarks. Mr. B. B. Ward, director of the institute, then made a short and inspiring address, in which he called attention to the importance of the work of the institute, and the need of well-trained mechanics in all lines.
